

Corporate Reputation of Pharma 2023/4

Social Media Toolkit

April 2024

Overview

The views of patients and patient groups are becoming more central to every action that pharmaceutical companies take—from selecting which treatments address patients’ unmet needs, to co-creating user-friendly patient information. Patients and patient groups accordingly need a platform to share their opinions on the pharmaceutical industry, and to offer up their ideas about how individual pharmaceutical companies can improve.

Now in its 13th year, PatientView’s annual ‘Corporate Reputation of Pharma’ survey functions as just such a platform. Few, if any, studies provide patient groups and health campaigners with the ‘Corporate Reputation’ survey’s opportunity to comment on, and assess, the pharmaceutical industry’s performance.

The 2023 ‘Corporate Reputation of Pharma’ survey received responses from 2,518 patient groups globally—a record total. The respondent patient groups specialise in 45 therapy areas and come from 106 countries worldwide. 41 pharma companies are assessed for their corporate reputation by the patient groups responding to the 2023/24 survey. The survey’s results support pharmaceutical-company efforts to become more patient-centric and to enhance relationships with patients and patient groups.

Purpose of this social media toolkit

Pharmaceutical companies have increased their efforts with patient groups worldwide and as a result, the relationship between both groups has matured and is more mutually beneficial.

The purpose of this social media toolkit is to support pharmaceutical companies featured in the 2023 'Corporate Reputation of Pharma' that wish to promote the survey to their followers (and the rest of the industry) on social media platforms - LinkedIn and X.

This social media toolkit includes social media copy and social assets, aimed at enabling pharmaceutical companies to share the results of PatientView's 2023/24 'Corporate Reputation of Pharma'.
